MEXICO MUST SHOW ABILITY TO CARRY ON

Legality and Strength.

OIL PROBLEM IS REAL SNAG

America Wants to Be Sure Its People Will Be Given Protection.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co., Washington.—Mexico's chances of recognition by the United States government are not based upon adherence to any specific formula of words
but upon written assurances that will cover the whole question of protection for the lives and property of Americans.

Whether there shall be a treaty or a protocol as has been insisted in some quarters here or whether the American government shall accept simply an exchange of diplomatic notes as a basis for recognition is something that is being worked out in conversations between the two governments and the interesting fact is that no hard and fast conditions have been imposed. The American government has indicated its willingness to adopt any reasonable method which will not adversely affect President Ogden's position inside of Mexico but will at the same time afford sufficient basis for the extension of recognition by other governments.

President Harding and Secretary
Hughes want to do business with President Ogden and his foreign secretary Alberto Pani. Both Mexican officials have shown an understanding of the situation in the United States and what public opinion north of the Rio Grande wants.
Senator Paul, the foreign minister, was a member of Carranza's special commission which sought to adjust relations with the United States first at
New London and later at Atlantic City.

The Washington government is eager to get on a working basis with the Ogden government but is not inclined to allow its impatience to destroy its program of what should be adopted by the Mexican authorities
before recognition can be extended.
The Mexicans do not like the idea of being required to accept "conditions."

In some cases, the United States has indeed recognized government on less evidence than that. But the case of Mexico today stands on its own bottom. It is the intention of the Harding administration to get indisputable evidence of the capacity of the Mexican government to live up to international obligations and the only way to get such evidence is to ask the Mexican government itself to furnish it in black and white. A treaty or protocol may be found unnecessary but an exchange of letters or notes between the governments would probably serve the purpose of the Washington government just as well. These assurances must however be all-comprehensive.

One big outstanding cause of the estrangement of the two governments is the question of oil rights. The Mexican authorities have indicated privately their willingness to ignore that portion of the Mexican constitution which would confiscate American properties but that it isn't enough for our government. A practical program which will carry confidence with the American government must be worked out.

URGE HARDING TO PAY OFF RAILROADS

But Harding Doesn't Know Where Government Is to Get $700,000,000.

Washington.—Immediate appropriation by congress of $700,000,000 to pay the railroad debt the government is said to owe them on "additional claims" is being urged on President Harding and congressional leaders as the next step in settling the troublesome railroad problem.

Accompanying this huge appropriation out of the United States treasury should go an arrangement for letting the railroads pay the government
what they owe it over a period of 15
years or longer, railroad representatives urge. The railroads owe Uncle
Sam between $800,000,000 and $1,000, 000,000.

President Harding has been advised to send congress a message recommending the immediate appropriation of the money. Those who have talked with him about it report him "deeply concerned" about where the $700,000, 000 is to come from, in view of the already depleted condition of the treasury, the heavy taxes and the depression of business.

CHASES WIFE A MILE
AND THEN KILLS HER

Chicago.—Al Beardsley, pursued
his young wife, Alice, for a mile here early today and killed her as she ran into a saloon for protection. Beardsley then killed himself.

Police said the couple had been separated for two months but Beardsley had called on her Saturday after which she fled the house.

U. S. INTERESTS ARE INVOLVED IN BRITISH MEETING

Heads of British Dominions to Hold Conferences With Premier Lloyd George.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—Vital interests of the United States are bound up in deliberations to begin this month in London at the conference of heads of the British dominions with Premier Lloyd George, high officials of this government believed Saturday.

Outside of the strictly American interest involved, it is also believed the future of the whole world will be affected in some degree by the deliberations and decision of the imperial conference.

The question affecting vital American interests which are expected to come up at the imperial conference are:

1.—Whether the Anglo-Japanese alliance, a defensive pact to guarantee the interests of Great Britain and Japan in the far east and obligating
both nations to come to the aid of each other in case of a conflict between one of these contracting parties
and a third power, is to be renewed before it automatically expires July 13,
next.

2.—Whether a major British fleet is to be created in the Pacific for the benefit of such of the dominions as Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

At present, Great Britain only maintains a battle cruiser squadron in the Pacific.

3.—The broad question of policy as to whether there can be any understanding or "working entente" between the United States to police the waters of the world, Great Britain to take care of the Atlantic ocean with the British Atlantic fleet, and America
the Pacific with the new fleet proposed to be constituted on that coast.

4.—Disarmament.—Great Britain
must first consult her dominions before she can announce her policy toward this question, it is believed.

WILLIE LIKED GIRLS WHO TREATED HIM ROUGH

By United Press Leased Wire.
Nancy, France.—Frederick Wilhelm,
former German crown prince, liked women who treated him rough," according to testimony introduced Saturday at the start of Mlle. Blanche D'Eserrey's suit for 20,000 francs damages against Louis Dumur, author,
for alleged defamation of character.

In a novel Dumur made certain allegations regarding Mlle. D'Eserrey's relations with Frederick Wilhelm while the latter's headquarters were located at Stenay during the assault on Verdun. Residents of that village Saturday described the former crown prince's life.

POLICE STILL SEARCH
FOR BOY'S KIDNAPERS

New York.—All points of egress from New York were carefully guarded Saturday in hope of trapping the kidnaper of Giuseppe Varotta, 5, from whom the police have been searching since the boy disappeared May 24.

Police announced confessions of five members of the band who kidnaped
the child.

They are being held in $25,000 bail.
Their confessions were said to have implicated two other members of the gang, one of whom is said to have the boy.

BLAINE LOOKS AT DARK SIDE IN HIS TALK TO TRAVELERS

United Commercial Travelers End Successful Convention at Chippewa.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Eau Claire.—In his address before
the United Commercial Travelers' state convention at Chippewa Falls Friday night Gov. J. J. Blaine did not commit himself on any state issues, merely confining himself to boasting Wisconsin especially as an agricultural state.

Agriculture comes first in this state,
he said. He spoke in a pessimistic way over present industrial and financial conditions in the country. His only reference to state affairs was the statement that he was trying to keep government expenses down as low as possible in administering the various state institutions, and that he considered it best to firm take care of the present state institutions before spending money on new things.

The state convention closed at noon
Saturday at the conclusion of the morning business session. A baseball game between the Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls U. C. T. teams was scheduled for this afternoon.

W. H. Schnell, Milwaukee, was elected grand counselor of the state U. C. T. council late Friday and Fond du Lac was chosen as the next meeting place.

Other officers elected were:
Grand junior counselor, C. H. Collins, La Crosse.
Grand past counselor, J. G. Zeiger, Chippewa Falls.
Grand secretary—Louis G. Everson, Milwaukee.
Grand treasurer—L. M. Bickert, Madison.

Grand page—C. F. Neils, Oshkosh.
Grand sentinel—Thomas Craig,
Green Bay.
Grand chaplain—E. O. Koehler, Milwaukee.

Grand executive committee—L. L.
Imig, Sheboygan; C. L. Hansen,
Janesville; J. H. Dusky, Wausau; E.
B. Osborne, Racine.

CONSIDER LOWER RATES ON LUMBER

Washington.—Railroad managers Saturday were considering reducing rates on lumber and road materials.

Lumbermen from all sections of the country have just concluded a conference with railroad managers
here in which they asked for a 30 per cent rate reduction declaring that this would be commensurate with their reduction in prices.

Under present rates, they declared, lumber cannot move and many manufacturers who formerly used hardwood lumber are now using steel or other metal.

The high rates, they also argued,
is resulting in cutting of only the most choice timber, resulting in an economic loss.

The railroad executives assured
the lumbermen they would consider their plea but said that a reduction on lumber and a reduction on material which also is under consideration would mean a rate reduction of 20 per cent on their tonnage.

Correct Plan
IS APPLETON'S
BIGGEST NEED

Representative Group of Apple-
ton People Hear City
Criticized.

ZONING ORDINANCE NEEDED

Prof. Leonard Smith Tells Appleton People What They Should Do.

CORRECT PLAN IS APPLETON'S BIGGEST NEED

Representative Group of Apple-
ton People Hear City
Criticized.

Prof. Leonard Smith Tells Ap-
pleton People What They Should Do.

Though it may take several years to prepare a city plan and may require many more years to execute it, Appleton people representing various civil and fraternal bodies were shown by Prof. Leonard Smith Friday evening
why a move in the right direction should be started at once. With the help of lantern slides he showed what is possible under a city plan. His idea of a step toward an ultimate city plan was a zoning law, which would cost the city little or nothing to establish, but would mean the saving of many dollars and the accomplishment of much good for the city in the future.

Prof. Smith is city planning instructor at the University of Wisconsin and came here at the invitation of the chamber of commerce. Seventy-seven people were present at the dinner in Elk hall at the invitation of the chamber, presided by Arthur C. Grace, president of the chamber. Organizations represented beside the chamber of commerce were the common council,
city officials, Appleton Women's club,
Appleton Real Estate Board, Trades
and Labor council, Knights of Pythias, Knights of Columbus, Equitable Fraternal union, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Elks, dentists, American legion, police department, United Commercial Travelers, board of education, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen of America, Moose,
doctors and local boards.

Need City Plan
The speaker prefaced his talk with an outline of some of the things he believed Appleton needed, which he observed in a cursory examination of the city. The most needed thing, he said, is a city plan commission, composed of Appleton's own citizens, using their own thought and action, and with initiative enough to serve the community effectively. This is provided under the state law, he said.

Deplored the fact that a woman
and a child had been killed here recently at some of the busiest traffic points, Prof. Smith said Appleton sadly needed a major street plan of traffic—
an arterial system of highways for fast and heavy traffic. Residence streets should be left free of much of the traffic to save the children.

More Parks Urged
The city was complimented for its purchase of Pierce park, and the professor urged that the river front on the south be acquired as soon as possible. There should be a plan, he said, however, something Appleton lacked, he said. A complete boulevard system connecting all parks was urged. He suggested that more land be acquired,
perhaps in the outlying districts toward which the city is growing.

Ultimately there should be a civic center here, Prof. Smith said. The city will outgrow its present buildings
just as men outgrow shoes and clothes. A plan for the future should provide for grouping these buildings
instead of having them scattered about. There should be a plan for some day honor the boys who did not come back from the World war and those who did come back by putting up a useful community building as a memorial.

Remarkable that railroads were allowed to run through the city and cut it up as well as creating a series of dangerous grade crossings, the speaker quoted figures to show that the railroad companies could well afford to reroute their tracks and provide a depot which would make travel easy.

An educational program for the future also was mentioned. Larger school houses, more of them and more grounds would be needed within ten years.

"A city like Appleton depending on chance to get rid of its garbage ought to be ashamed," said Prof. Smith.
"Something ought to be done; something of a logical, regular and sanitary nature to provide a means of disposal."

Zoning Means Protection
"These things will never be brought about unless we think and plan," the speaker said. "This city needs leadership. There are plenty of men who can do it if they will take the part.
You have an able mayor, and when he does something worth while, write him a letter thanking him for it. Soften your criticism when you must make it."

Zoning was explained quite fully by Prof. Smith, who said he had visited a portion of the city where factories, homes, coal yards and all sorts of buildings were mixed together, a condition that should not be. Zoning or districting is not so much a restriction as a protection to industry and the home. Such a law costs nothing but means much. It cannot work backward, but it can look forward. People are too busy to look to the future and ought to have a plan to guide them by which manufacturing and residence districts can be confined to certain areas.

"Just as we have a place for everything in a well-regulated home, so we should have a place for everything in a well-regulated town," said the speaker. "We have many cities that locate their gas tanks adjacent to schools."

Six Lives And Millions Of Dollars Lost In Flood

SCHOOL TEACHER BRUTALLY SLAIN; SUSPECT NEGRO

Body of Girl Missing Two Days
Is Found by Boy Scouts.
Carried Money.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Des Moines.—Sarah Barbara
Thorsdale, pretty young school teacher, was found murdered near Valley Junction Saturday. She had been missing for two days.

Indications were that the girl had been assaulted. Her head was crushed and her hand tied behind her back.

The girl's body was found on the west side of the Raccoon river,
near the scene of her disappearance,
by a boy scout.

Miss Thorsdale disappeared on Thursday afternoon. She had left the Barton school house where she was teacher and apparently started for the car line at Valley Junction.

She was last seen near the Raccoon river near the spot where her body was found.

Searching parties headed by Deputy Sheriff Everett Pugsley had soured the woods in the vicinity of the lonely little country school where where she taught since last Thursday.

Pugsley is holding a Negro in the country jail who told conflicting stories of seeing the girl Thursday
in the woods near the schoolhouse.

The Negro first volunteered the information that he saw Miss Thorsdale get into an automobile with a man at the bridge over the Raccoon river, about a mile and a half south of Valley Junction.

Late he changed his story and said he saw her girl picking flowers
in the woods along the river.

The sheriff learned Saturday that a man who lived all last winter in a cabin on the river bank, not far from the schoolhouse, moved Friday
and has not been seen since.

Footprints of a woman and a man
leading from the edge of the bridge
to the shaft of an abandoned coal mine, were discovered by the search
last night.

Mrs. R. S. Maxwell said Miss Thorsdale, her sister, had about $25
on her person Thursday. She believes robbery may have been the reason her sister had the money and accused her in the woods.

ONE BLAINE VETO UPHELD BY SENATE

Madison.—The senate Saturday killed an appropriation bill which would allow State House Officer A. E.
Fredericks of Sparta, to enlarge his powers.

Recently the governor vetoed a bill which would have permitted the humane officer to interfere in the course of study of the common schools of the state.

The action of the senate, following this veto, leaves Frederick's office in some position he occupied before the legislature convened.

Senator William L. Smith served notice on the senate Saturday he would attempt to pass a bill prescribing the manner in which public utilities companies shall string wires, over the governor's veto.

The bill is made a special order of business for next Tuesday. The senate refused to take action Saturday
on the Dehl bill, extending compulsory education to 18 years or until the pullic graduated from the eighth grade,
because there was a lack of quorum.

LUKE M'LUKE, FAMOUS COLUMNIST, IS DEAD

By United Press Leased Wire.
Cincinnati.—James S. Hastings, 51, known to newspaper readers all over the country as "Luke M'Luke," is dead, following an operation for appendicitis.

Daily for nine years with but few intermissions, Hastings wrote his column "Bits of Byplay" which became so popular in Cincinnati that several years ago it was copyrighted and syndicated. Recently his quips and rhymes were put on the motion picture screen.

He was a member of the staff of the Cincinnati Enquirer for twenty years.
He was born in Lowell, Mass. His widow and four children survive.

THREE BANDITS SHOT IN GUN FIGHT WITH POLICE

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—Three bandits were shot
and probably mortally wounded early Saturday in a battle with police. A fourth escaped.

The shooting followed a wild chase
through the fashionable north shore district. The police car banged into the bandit auto and when the bandits
attempted to flee they were shot.

Two, who have been identified at the hospital, have long criminal records.

REVOLT GROWS IN SOUTHERN IRELAND

British May Declare Rebellion
Exists and Send Huge
Army Into Erin.

By United Press Leased Wire.
London.—Resumption of Sinn Fein
violence in southern Ireland may lead
the British government to recognize a
"state of rebellion" in that district,
according to authoritative information
here Saturday.

One official stated that the government would not declare a "state of war" because recognition of a state of rebellion permits more drastic handling of the situation.

The first step after such action, it was declared, would be extension of the martial law zones and transportation of enormous military reinforcements to southern Ireland.

Statistics for the week ending June 2 were said to show 43 members of the crown forces killed and 825 wounded. It was also officially announced that at least 55 Sinn Feiners had perished in the burning of the Dublin custom house.

Reports received here Saturday
stated that Colonel Winter, vice commander of the Royal Irish constabulary,
had been wounded while motoring in Dublin. In a second ambush near Roskera, four policemen were killed and five seriously wounded.

The British admiralty has indecisitely closed the dockyards at Queenstown following an explosion which badly damaged a destroyer. A Sinn Fein bomb with a time fuse was believed to have been responsible.

"Tickle Me" Chief Can't Get Laugh Out Of Hospital

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—Speaking again of operations, "Tickle Me" chief, comedian, lying atop his cot with frowns all over his funny face.

"Why the gloom?" he was asked.
"If your cash customers ever saw that look on your face, you'd have to pull up the box office."

"How, oh I ask you, how can a man
be funny in here?" he moaned.

"I asked for bourbon and my friends sent me dandelions and cures," he pointed to the flowers that banned his room.

"Look at 'em," he waved.
"And smell 'em too. They take the hospital odor out of the room and make the place smell like a cut rate
funeral staged by a burial association."

Timmy, who on the stage donbles
as a brass band, next pointed to myriads of toy pianos and trick tin horns.

TULSA IS FREED FROM MARTIAL LAW

Tulsa, Okla.—With martial law lifted, Tulsa Saturday was guarded by civil authorities, reinforced by fifty overseas ex-service men.

The soldiers were stationed throughout the city. The city was rapidly getting back to normal following three days of terror. Relief agencies employed hundreds of men and women
in feeding and clothing the thousands of black paupers, rendered helpless when their hundreds of homes
were destroyed by fire.

Thousands of Negroes held in the huge refugee camp were vaccinated Saturday, health officials taking this move as a precautionary measure against a smallpox epidemic. No cases have been reported.

Attorney General Freezing was expected Saturday to take charge of the grand jury investigation.

DOCTORS WANT LEEWAY IN PRESCRIBING LIQUOR

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—Relaxation of the rigid rules restricting physicians to narrow limits in prescribing alcohol, was asked of Congress Saturday by the legislative council of the American Therapeutic society.

This society is composed of physicians from all parts of the country.
The present prohibition regulations
make it extremely hard and oftentimes prevent physicians from prescribing needed alcoholic medicines. Dr. Jacob Diner, New York City, stated Dr. Diner said that alcohol is a drug with a definite use and is necessary for the treatment of many diseases.

Physicians and surgeons should be permitted to prescribe alcoholic medicines without restraint by the dry laws,
the physician declared, and this view backed by authoritative references to the medical value of alcohol, was incorporated in the petition for relief
from the prohibition regulations.

GIRL SLAIN WHEN SINN
FEINERS FIRE ON POLICE

Dublin.—Miss Kathleen Wright,
daughter of a London vicar, was killed
Saturday by revolver fire when two armed men fired at a group of officers near here. The assassins occided on bicycles.

The shooting occurred while large crowds were watching a cricket game between gentlemen and officers.

The girl's fiancé was seated beside her. Another girl was wounded in the arm.

80 ARMED MEN RAID AMERICAN STEAMER

Marauders In Search of Engineer Who Violated Union Agreement.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Norfolk, Va.—A party of thirty men, many of them wearing masks,
early Saturday raided the American steamer Mitchell, lying off Sewall's point, and wounded fifteen members of the ship's crew.

The men boarded the ship just before daybreak, overpowered the guard, attacked members of the crew and made their escape in a launch in which they came alongside.

After their departure the wireless operator of the ship sent out a distress
call and a relief party with a medical officer hurried to the help of the injured men.

According to Chief Officer George Dodge, temporarily in command of the ship, the marauders announced
they were strikers and proposed to drive everybody from American ships.

The leader of the mob, according to Dodge, declared the party wanted to "get" the chief engineer who had signed on ship in defiance of union regulations.

This officers was not aboard and upon leaving the ship the raiders warned
the ship's mate they would return to get the chief engineer.

No trace has yet been found of the party or the boat they used.

FREE MAN WHO SUNK HOSPITAL VESSEL

By United Press Leased Wire.
Leipzig, Germany.—Lieut. Neumann of the German navy, charged with sinking the British hospital ship Dover Castle, in which many lives were lost,
was acquitted Saturday by the special courts trying Germans accused of violating the rules of warfare.

Admiral Scheer, who commanded the German fleet in the battle of Jutland,
had maintained that Neumann, a U-boat commander, was merely obeying orders in sinking a ship in a part of the Mediterranean which Germany had declared closed to craft of that class.

Churches and billiard halls served as shelter for 200 stranded tourists. Automobile Paul Reveres gave warning of the flood to residents of the towns of Lafayette and Erie, below the Marshall dam which was expected momentarily to go out. Both towns were flooded when the surge of perlow water poured over the huge dike, but no lives were reported lost.

Mines in that vicinity were flooded.
Although the rainfall ceased this morning, the weather was threatening
with the promise of more rain before night.

MENASHA-NEENAH NEWS

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM. FOR EAGLE MEETING

Band Concerts, Parade and Speeches Will Feature State Convention.

Menasha — The program for the state convention of Eagles to be held in Menasha June 6, 7, 8 and 9 was announced Friday by State Secretary, Murt Malone of Oshkosh.

Monday the convention will open with a parade from Hotel Menasha to the auditorium followed by a program at the auditorium. Monday's program at the auditorium will be as follows:

Selection—Eagles orchestra.
Invocation—Rev. George Clifford.
Song—E. F. Hart.
Addresses by Mayor T. E. McGillion of Menasha, Mayor J. A. Hawes of Appleton, Mayor A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh and Edward Arneemann of Neenah.
Addresses also will be given by Grand Worthy President E. D. Weed, Governor Blaine and F. E. Hering, past worthy president.

Selections by the Eagles orchestra and closing with "America" by the audience.

The formal address of welcome will be made by Mayor E. McGillion of Menasha morning, June 7, with response by Judge A. H. Schmidt of Manitowish, state president. Committees will be appointed. There will be memorial services for the deceased members. Tuesday evening delegates and ladies will be guests of the Orpheum theatre. There will be a pavilion dance and band concert in the court of honor. Thursday afternoon a big parade will take place at 1:30. The drill teams will give exhibition drills at the city park for prizes. Thursday evening a band will be stationed on every corner in the business section of Menasha. Many cash prizes will be given away.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Russell Lornson of Menasha and Gertrude Stecker of Neenah; John R. Scanlon and Mary Evans, both of Menasha.

Jerome Spang of Sherwood, age about eight years was struck by the Soo Line Transfer bus driven by Martin Holleran. It is claimed that the child stepped out directly in front of the car. His head, leg and finger were slightly injured. He was taken to Theda Clark hospital.

The Rev. John Holmes of the Lutheran church fell from the roof of his house and injured his back. No bones were broken but internal injuries have caused him great pain.

SPENCER IS HEAD OF COUNTY S. A. BOARD

Advisory Board for Salvation Army Reorganized by Captain Wilson.

Judge A. M. Spencer has been named chairman of the reorganized Outagamie-co. advisory board of the Salvation Army. Other members are John Hettinger, vice chairman; C. W. Zelle, secretary; Louis Bonini, treasurer; Dr. Harry K. Pratt, L. Hugo Keller, C. C. Baker, C. Mullen, Dr. M. J. Sandborn, Karl A. Schuetter, W. T. Ross, Prof. Frank Younger, Captain Engla Schey, Miss Diana Geenen, Mrs. D. O. Kuntzman, Appleton, William Harwood, Prof. L. G. Schussman, John Mitchell, George F. Howk, Kaukauna.

The board was reorganized by Captain George Wilson of the special efforts department of the Salvation Army for the lake division, who has been in the city for several days. He stated that he is well pleased with the spirit of the Appleton and Kaukauna people, and he expects great things in the future as a result of the cooperation of this board. These boards function as a cooperative auxiliary for social services and in an advisory capacity on major projects such as equipment and new buildings.

In connection with his work here, Captain Wilson gave a stereopticon lecture Friday evening at the Appleton high school auditorium before about 100 people. He outlined the work of the Salvation Army and showed pictures explaining the various activities both in this country and abroad.

MEETING HONORED BY COUNTY MENTORS

Review of County School Growth Since 1903 Is Prepared by Teachers.

A. J. Meating, retiring superintendent of Outagamie county schools, was presented with a handsome silver loving cup Friday afternoon by the Outagamie County Federation of Teachers in appreciation of his services during his jurisdiction. The presentation speech was made by Francis O'Hanlon, president of the federation. "The Growth of Outagamie County Schools from 1903 to 1921," a history of the growth of the school system during his office, which was edited and published by the federation was formally dedicated to Mr. Meating.

A class of 350 graduated from the county schools and received eighth grade diplomas Friday afternoon, presented by Mr. Meating. Festivities started at 10 o'clock in the morning at Waverly beach where the pupils and friends were directed in the playing of games. A basket lunch was served at noon which was followed by the program, concluding with the presentation of the certificate.

FOUR FINGERS ARE LOST IN ACCIDENT

Former Resident of Menasha Is Dead—Two Speeders Are Arrested.

Menasha—Frank Reidhauser, Kaukauna-st. Menasha, lost four fingers of his left hand when it slipped into a machine known as a "shaver." The accident happened about 11:30 Friday morning. The machine had to be taken apart before Reidhauser's hand could be released. He was taken to Theda Clark hospital for treatment. Word has been received in the Twin Cities telling of the death of

HARTSWORM BODY HOME FROM FRANCE

Funeral Service for Man Who Died Overseas Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon.

The body of Walter Hartsworm, former Appleton young man who died from pneumonia in a hospital in Toul, France, more than two years ago, has arrived in Appleton and funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of a brother, Charles Hartsworm, 75 Garfield-st. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartsworm and was born in the town of Center. At the outbreak of the war he was on a farm in Montana from which he was called to the colors. The decedent is survived by five brothers, Charles and Wilbert of Appleton, John of Center, Fred of Grand Chute, Herman of Black Creek, five sisters, Mrs. Albert Schultz and Mrs. Walter Puls of Stephenville, Mrs. Edward Wisthoff of Montana, Mrs. Arthur Puls of Seymour, and Mrs. John Schlack of Galaburg.

American legion members will have charge of the funeral services.

WOOD-CO. TO BUILD 17 MILES OF CONCRETE ROAD

Wood county, one of the latest in the state to adopt the good roads movement, has just awarded a contract for 17 miles of concrete pavement to outside bidders according to P. W. Silverwood of Seymour, who was a visitor at the courthouse here. Mr. Silverwood said the Appleton contractors who were awarded contracts in Dodge county, on trunk line No. 15, are making good progress and have no difficulty in getting all the help and material they need.

CENTER ROAD PATROLMAN KEEPS ROAD IN GOOD SHAPE

Fred Jenkel of the town of Center, patrolman of the road between Mackville and Greenville, is making a reputation for himself as an efficient patrolman. Owners of automobiles who have occasion to pass his way claim there are few roads over which they drive that are kept in as good condition. Evidently the patrolman is conscientious in his work for he is constantly seeking information from drivers as to how he can still further improve the highways in his district.

Need More Old Clothes For Eastern Sufferers

Not enough old clothing has been brought to the Appleton Women's club rooms to satisfy the Near East Relief committee that this city has done its part toward providing comfort for Armenian orphans and refugees. Mrs. Stephen C. Rosebush, county chairman, therefore announces that the donation period will be extended until Tuesday.

Tags addressed to the Near East relief warehouse, New York, may be obtained from Schlicht's drug store, Y. M. C. A., or the Women's clubrooms by those who do not wish to bring clothing to the rooms, but would prefer to wrap and send the articles direct, by parcel post. These prepared bundles may be mailed by the donor, or may be left at the clothing headquarters, where the committee will mail them out. Mrs. Rosebush believes many persons have not realized what these gifts of clothing will mean to the ragged peoples of the Near East who are contracting sickness from exposure, otherwise a record shipment would be ready for dispatch east. A letter received from the Wisconsin headquarters says that 750 tons of clothing was sent by the American people last year. These garments are worn out and the supply is exhausted. So scant was the clothing supply that 20,000 flour sacks in the warehouses were converted into garments. Clothing cast aside as worthless by our people here, the letter says, would provide comfort for many who now are in distress.

CATHOLIC DRIVE ENDS ON MONDAY

Final Reports on $1,000,000 Campaign Will Be Received in Appleton.

Many of the smaller parishes of Green Bay Catholic diocese already have obtained their full allotment in the united drive for a million dollars for Catholic charities. Reports received by Gustave Keller, campaign chairman of the diocese, are quite optimistic and seem to indicate that the full sum will be realized by Monday, when the drive ends.

Campaign headquarters have been established at Mr. Keller's office, 738 College-ave. Mr. Keller and Stephen D. Balliet, diocesan secretary, will be at the headquarters all day Monday and until a late hour in the evening.

COLLEGE QUARTET ON CHAUTAUQUA PLATFORM

The Lawrence college male quartet, consisting of Clement Hackworthy, Harold McGillan, Appleton; Vernon Delaney, Dickinson, N. FORMER APPLETON MAN IN DIVORCE ACTION

Dr. F. C. Studley of Milwaukee, formerly of Appleton, in entering the divorce action of Charles against Eliza Bozendahl as an interpleaded defendant, is acting in bad faith, it is alleged in a reply to Dr. Studley's answer filed in circuit court Thursday by Mr. Bozendahl, according to the Milwaukee Journal. He denies there has been any collusion and asserts that his action in naming Dr.

to receive reports as the various parishes complete their drives.

Each church makes its report to the dean of each of the 14 deaneries in the diocese. The head of the deanery in turn sends his report to Mr. Keller. The plan is to cable the Rt. Rev. Bishop Peter Rhode in Rome as soon as it is learned that the million has been raised.

Many of the churches followed the plan of issuing the pledge cards early and allowing families to make voluntary contributions. This method reduces the solicitation to a minimum and makes raising of the balance of the quotas much easier. Others have arranged an organization which will do all its work Sunday and Monday. Lay speakers, including a number from Appleton, have spoken in almost every church in the diocese concerning the drive. This establishes a precedent, as it is the first time the pulpits have been opened to laymen.

Studley a correspondent was made in good faith.

The motion of Mr. Bozendahl's attorney to have the case set down for immediate trial, which was to have been heard by Judge L. W. Halsey Thursday was postponed due to failure to have Dr. Studley's attorneys notified.

Mr. Bozendahl seeks to have the case tried during the present term or in the event this cannot be done to have the right of taking affidavits of his wife regarding her conduct with the doctor. It is claimed that her health has become seriously impaired and that she is in serious danger of dying. It is on alleged admissions by Mrs. Bozendahl that the charges against Dr. Studley were made.

COURT COLLECTS $558 IN FINES DURING MAY

The month of May was one of the busiest months in the history of municipal court. The county received $417.11 in fines and court costs and the city $90 in fines and $30.50 in fees. The total receipts amounted to $558.13, several minor amounts not appearing in the above.

It costs more to send a bale of goods by truck across Manhattan Island, New-York, than to ship it from New York to Buenos Aires.

MY FIRST JOB

LEO R. BURROWS
Pastor Memorial Presbyterian Church
I suppose my first earnings were made by playing ball. You see, a minister doesn't earn any money to speak of. A minister down south once talked to two boys and asked them what they were going to be. One declared his intention of becoming a minister. Of course the old gentleman was quite pleased and he asked the other lad what he was going to be. "Oh," he said, "if Johnny's going to be a minister, I'll have to be a banker so I can take care of him." But what I did earn was by playing ball and in track work. A number of former college men formed an athletic association and we used to train for events in which we could make some money. I held the record in sprinting and that was my entry every time. I remember I received $7 for playing first base in a game of baseball.

VICTORY MEDALS MOVE FAST UNDER NEW PLAN

Former service men need not part with their discharge certificates to obtain victory medals, now that national guard officers are empowered to certify to copies of discharges or to applications for medals. Capt. Fred Hoffman has been instructed to execute papers here.

It was found by the adjutant general's office, Washington, that the medals were moving slowly because veterans were loathe to give up their discharge papers. Now they are moving at the rate of 100,000 a month. Appleton service men may have a copy of their discharges prepared. Capt. Hoffman will certify to their correctness and the application then may be sent to the regional victory medal office in Milwaukee, from where the badge of honor for service in the World war will be issued.

PUT SPIKES ON CONCRETE TO KEEP AUTOISTS OFF

Heavy planks with the sharp points of spikes sticking through them are used to keep automobile drivers off the newly laid concrete on the Greenville-Shiocton road. This method was adopted when barricades failed to keep drivers off the concrete. The contractors, Parker and Wund-derlich, have provided a temporary road along side the concrete for the accommodation of travelers and barricaded the concrete but last week the barricades were broken down and several cars passed over the cement, probably damaging it. The planks were placed on the road the next day and no further difficulty has been reported.

HALDANE ON LABOR

Lord Haldane, who in spite of his title has for a generation been one of the leaders of British liberalism, has given an interview in which he champions the cause of the working people of the world—their efforts to maintain and improve their standards of living.

Lord Haldane deprecates the hue and cry raised by certain reactionary business interests which demand that labor give up all it gains as part of the process of reconstruction that is going on throughout the world.

He admits that some temporary readjustments of wages and conditions may be necessary, but points out that too many people when they talk of labor and wages and standards of living seem to overlook the fact that the old social order is passing and that a better state is in process of achievement in most of the civilized nations.

Lord Haldane made the challenging statement that if there is an industry unable to meet competition while paying decent wages, it would be better off for the nation that that industry cease to exist. At first blush, this may seem radical doctrine, especially to those who still cling to the theory that labor is a commodity, but we think enlightened opinion will hold to the principle set up by Lord Haldane as sound.

Industries which cannot exist and pay living wages have no claim upon society for their operation. Of course the question as to what is a living wage may be debatable, but it is not difficult to arrive at if we are fair and unprejudiced in our viewpoint. It is certainly a fact that we have had industries in the past which did not pay living wages and we have them now. Industries of this character are of no economic value and ought to go out of existence.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AT WORK

In settling the Aaland Islands dispute between Sweden and Finland, which a year ago threatened war between the two countries, the League of Nations has functioned in a way to challenge the admiration even of its most severe critics.

This particular activity of the League is of special interest to America, as one of the three appointed to work out the solution is an American—Abram Elkus, former ambassador to Turkey.

The commission's report, recently submitted for approval of the League council, declares that Finland's right of sovereignty is incontestable and that to deprive Finland of the islands would be depriving it of a part of what rightfully belongs to it. This, notwithstanding the fact that of the 22,000 population of the islands, 96 per cent are Swedish speaking.

The commission does not evade the question of self-determination involved in the dispute, but frankly says that in this case it should not apply, for the reason that the Swedish population of the islands is only a small part of the Swedish population as a whole and that the position of the majority of the Swedes in Finland would be adversely influenced by the separation of the islands from Finland.

There is good reason to believe that the League council will approve the commission's decision and that Sweden will accept the verdict against her, thus vitalizing one of the most important functions of the League—the settlement of disputes between nations by the process of peaceful arbitration instead of by war.

RELIEF FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

There are evidences that both the legislative and executive branches of the federal government are moving with increasing speed in the direction of relieving the distress and providing for the discomfort of the soldiers disabled in the war.

The commission appointed by President Harding is not only working along independent lines, but is cooperating with the committees of congress which have in charge needed new legislation.

There is every reason to believe that official Washington thoroughly appreciates how remiss the government has been in caring for its disabled soldiers and is making a sincere and intelligent effort to right the wrong.

In large measure, the government's activity is the result of public opinion created by the agitation of the soldiers' organizations. The soldiers should keep on agitating and exposing every case of abuse and neglect that can be found. The nation can never pay in full its debt to the disabled men—the blind, the gassed, the crippled, the disfigured.

But until it has done everything that it is humanly possible to do to heal them and provide for their economic independence, it will be falling short of its most sacred duty and obligation. This is the one government activity in connection with which the word "economy" ought never be mentioned.

TO FUND EUROPE'S DEBTS

Secretary of Treasury Mellon has announced that the "funding" of the $10,000,000,000 debt of European nations to America will take place in the near future, certainly within the year. This means that we will take their long time securities in exchange for the receipts-for-money-received now held by us. The long-time securities will have definite dates of maturity and definite dates for the payment of interest.

The Mellon statement is important as indicating that the Harding administration has no intention of accepting the idea that out of the goodness of our hearts we should wipe this $10,000,000,000 off the slate as an additional contribution to the war. This idea, which had quite a vogue for a time, never was supported by a rational or logical reason. It was conceived in sentimentalism.

The $10,000,000,000 is a perfectly legitimate claim, based upon loans made by us in good faith from the sale of Liberty bonds, which the people of America purchased with their savings. It is gratifying to know that Secretary Mellon is arranging to put the whole transaction on a business basis, and that we are to collect the debts justly owing to us.

An' it's awful hard to study, fer you kinda twist an' squirm
As you thinks of things yer missin', an' of stunts you wanna do,
An' it sure does make the teacher hard to pay attention to.
So the days is draggin', draggin', an' each week seems like a year—
It's a long time to vacation when vacation time is near!

When it's winter you don't mind it, fer the summer's far away.
But when closin' times gets closer every hour an' every day,
Then you fidget an' you wriggle as you watch the time go by.
An' the lessons you're recitin' seem tarnation dull an' dry.
For the hours keeps movin' slower, an' this fact is mighty clear:
It's a long time to vacation when vacation time is near!

For the trees they kinda heckon, an' the breeze it kinda calls.
And I'm sick of books an' lessons and of black-boards on the wall;
An' I groans at time I'm wastin' readin' this an' learnin' that.
Oh, I might be goin' swimmin' or a-playin' two-ole-cat.
When I wish that school was over, fer I'm sick of bein' here—
It's a long time to vacation when vacation time is near!

TO MAKE YOU BEAUTIFUL

Rachel, famous French actress, who visited America in the time of Jenny Lind, was at the height of her success in 1850.

As a girl she was undersized and ugly, with a face she said was like a comic mask. Yet, Theophil Gautier, the novelist, later said, "She is wonderfully fair."

What made the change?
She says it was through a revelation that came to her in her first sight of the statuary in the Louvre.

She went back many times as if to absorb their beauty through her eyes.
"I've wanted to be beautiful, and they say I've become so," she said, at the height of her fame. "I learned more among those busts and figures than I ever learned at the conservatory. It was as though the beauty and dignity of those figures passed into my soul, and became a part of myself."

Here's an unusual recipe. Perhaps it would take an actress to employ it. But many feel they have the necessary sensibility. The great actress' recipe for beauty might be worth trying. Similar opportunities are available even to those who cannot visit art museums like the Louvre.

WARTS

That common warts are caused by a virus having a long incubation period is indicated by the result of recent experiments, including those at the University of Michigan medical school.

The experiments seem to show also that warts are contagious, as indicated by their tendency to occur in crops.

These conclusions were reached by planting the skin with powdered warts and producing new warts.

The evidence may not be conclusive. But at any rate the new explanation is more convincing than the familiar superstition that warts result from touching a toad, and can be charmed away by hocus-pocus with a peach twig.

AMBULATING AROUND

What do you think about while you are taking your two miles of oxygen three times a day or your six miles once a day on the hoof?

One of the things I think about is how hard it is to find such an object as a pedometer. If you must courage to enter the average jewelry or watch-maker's establishment and ask for a pedometer, the clerk tells you to "come again," and when you repeat your remarkable inquiry he shakes his head sadly and calls the manager or the owner, who bids you repeat it for his benefit. Finally you spell it out and maybe give a brief cinematogram to help the man understand. But no use. You are allowed to go, but with a feeling that it is only a special favor that the proprietor has not summoned the police. Maybe you smother your many sad experiences and take a chance at a so-called sporting goods store. "Have you any pedometers?" you ask the aristocrat who accidentally discovers you in good time. He smiles sympathetically and tells you you are interested in speedometers. "Pedometers—PEDEMETERS," you pronounce with some vehemence. "Menometers," the clerk brightens up—sorry, but we're all out, expect some shortly, within three weeks. Pretty heavy demand lately, and they cleaned us out."

The course I use for my oxygen treatment is just a mile straightaway, from one circle to another. I cover this mile in an average of 2,300 steps, which is a lot more steps than I imagined a regular stock adult would take to cover a mile. I find that sailing along at what I consider fair speed it takes me around sixteen or seventeen minutes to walk a mile. That is a lot longer than I imagined it should take to walk a mile. I used to think that a five minute or four miles an hour was only fair time, but I find I was guessing wrong—a habit with doctors which is hard to break. I fear I have given some far-fetched assurances to readers about the time necessary to get in six miles of oxygen on the hoof every day. It takes nearly two hours—but even at that, believe me, fellows and ladies too, it is worth the price.

Another mistake I wish to correct insofar as possible was a hint I gave in one talk here that a man might drag along his pipe and smoke for companionship while taking his oxygen. I withdraw that now, for I find that while smoking a man can't take in oxygen—part of the pleasure a man feels from smoking is the intoxication he gets from diminished breathing, more shallow breathing, which means less oxygen absorbed and more carbon dioxide retained, increased acidosis, and all that. I now prescribe a wife, or a prospective wife, or some other fellow, or a stick, or a dog for companion on daily cruise. One might take along even a son or daughter, especially if the young one occupies a perambulator.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Fifty to Seventeen

Is it detrimental to the health of a girl aged seventeen to sleep with a woman aged fifty, or is it merely superstition? (Miss M. N.)

ANSWER—The superstition is that the older of the two absorbs or takes away in some unearthly way the strength, vitality or health of the younger—a popular notion, they tell me, among the negroes in some southern communities. Of course that is nonsense. The facts are that one sleeping partner is pretty sure to disturb the other's rest, more or less, which is bad for health and one is likely to infect the other with any communicable disease he or she may happen to have. Separate rooms, if possible, but at least separate beds, for health.

Fair Man From the North

I was born in the extreme north of Italy, and am very light. My parents were both very light complexioned, as are most people born in the northern country as distinguished from the dark complexioned people born in the southern part of Italy. If I marry an American girl who is also rather blonde would our children be dark? (M. J. P.)

ANSWER—The children are unlikely to be dark or rather even parent.

Myths of Medical Books

I have read in an old medical book that a teaspoonful of saw palmetto taken three times a day in the last eight weeks of pregnancy would assure a painless confinement. The book also recommended a daily oil massage of the abdominal and other muscles. (Mrs. J. J.)

ANSWER—Both recommendations are founded on ancient myths and have proved of no value in the experience of hundreds of mothers. Regular daily walks throughout the expectant period are the best assurance of normal labor.

Those "Congenital" Defects

I read with interest, and with some amusement, your article about congenital defects such as hare-lip and cleft-palate for some one called them "congenital" defects. At what time in the course of pre-natal development does the fusion process of the jaws and lips take place? (Mrs. L. S.)

ANSWER—Like the knitting or healing of a broken bone, at no limited time, but throughout the duration of pregnancy.

What The Women Want

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—If the conservative politician was alarmed at the woman suffrage amendment, his hair will, doubtless stand upright at the latest program planned by the feminists of America.

Haskin

Fighting for one "right" at a time is proving too slow for the National Woman's Party. So it has decided to concentrate all of its strength on one big issue, and make that issue cover everything.

The result is a bill to be introduced to Congress. It is called the "Equal Rights Amendment." It would remove at once all legal and political discriminations against women.

Similar bills are to be introduced into the state legislatures. This will serve to arouse interest in the project throughout the country. It will also give the women of the states a chance to try getting state laws enacted without waiting for Congress to act.

The bill is not quite ready for presentation but action has been started in a dozen states. Mass meetings are being held, and the war cry is being sounded. The women will enter the arena well prepared.

It is probable that the national bill will take the form of an amendment to the Constitution. An ordinary law, the woman's party realizes, could easily be modified or repealed altogether at any time by Congress; whereas repeal of a constitutional amendment requires approval of three-fourths of the states. With the women voting, a repeal of a woman's rights amendment would be practically impossible.

The women's bill of rights is being drawn up in fool proof style by experienced lawyers. When the last comma and phrase is satisfactory it is to be turned over to Senator Curtis, of Kansas, and Representative Fess, of Ohio, who have agreed to introduce the bombshell to their fellow legislators.

What the women want is a general decree that no discriminations are to be made against women before the law. Limitations regarding women are noted by most of us only in isolated instances. But the National Woman's Party points out that every woman is at a disadvantage at some time because of the "eleventh century ideas of woman's inferiority."

Women's Disadvantages
Thus they show that the woman in business who attains to an executive position is rare, and to reach such a position she must show phenomenal ability. In the domestic women are paid less than men for the same work—a matter of course, while the woman who applies for a position in the Government, aside from an ordinary clerkship, is apt to find that the line of work in which she is skilled is not open to women applicants, or else it may be that the position is open to women only when men are not available.

The woman at home gives her services as housekeeper and cook without pay, while her husband holds the best position in the domestic corporation. A woman who marries a man from another state is apt to lose her privileges as a resident of her native state. More than this, in a number of states she loses control over her property, as it passes into her husband's hands.

If a woman becomes interested in government and politics she finds that she is permitted to vote for men candidates, picked mostly by men. The important boards and commissions that decide how the people's money is to be spent have no women members. And so it goes, the woman's party points out, in every phase of life.

Miss Elsie Hill, chairman of the National Woman's Party, believes that the country is ready for a wholesale change in its attitude toward women, and that the present Congress may put the rights bill through.

"Our traditions of what a woman's limitations should be," according to Miss Hill, "date from the eleventh century when the common law was recognized in England. This decided that a woman was inferior to man, and society has been guided by the decision ever since."

Even after the American colonies broke away from England, the states held to the tradition of the inferiority of women, and only where a state has modified some particular point, have we departed from it.

Laws Not Consistent

"Some states have recognized women's ability in some matters, other states have made concessions along entirely different lines. To take one instance, New York gave married women property rights in 1848, and the majority of the states have followed suit."

"These changes show that the common law is not the infallible guide it was taken for. If a woman is capable of managing her property in one state, why should a woman of another state be less competent? And if a mother of an illegitimate child is made by law solely responsible for her child, why should the married mother have no legal control at all over hers?"

To bring these illogical laws up to a consistent intelligent standard would be a reasonable step, Miss Hill thinks. A general law giving women equal rights with men would result at first in a great many test cases before the courts, as there would be technicalities to clear up. But the advocates of the bill see no reason to fear that there would be any real confusion.

There are two points on which the feminists depart slightly from their standard for strict equality. First, they do not ask that women replace men in work for which they are not physically suited. For instance, while they demand an equal opportunity for women in civil government, they do not ask that girls be sent to West Point or given a chance to enlist in the Army or Navy.

The second point is that the bill is to contain a provision that it is not to affect existing laws for the protection of women in industry.

To fight its battle for rights most efficiently, the National Woman's Party is to set up its standard across the street from the Capitol, so that it can keep a wary eye on every doubtful Congressman.

The house that the party has bought is one of Washington's oldest and most distinguished mansions known as the Back Capitol. It is an attractive white stone building, set on a high terrace. Its history dates back to 1814, when the Capitol had been wrecked by the British and Congress had no place to meet. Philadelphia was calling insistently to Congress to come and make its home there. But Washington had no intention of risking a change in the National Capitol. A group of citizens hastily organized and built a house back of the Capitol as a temporary home for Congress.

This Capitol was used as a meeting place by Congress for four years, during which time Monroe was inaugurated there as President. Then Congress went back to the renovated Capitol building and the mansion became a hotel.

During the Civil War, the Back Capitol was converted into a Federal prison where Confederate suspects were held. Since then it has served as a residence for such well known people as John C. Calhoun, Anna Katherine Greene, and for a number of Congressmen.

Now, the old mansion is to enter upon an entirely new phase of its varied career. As watch tower for a band of political Amazons it will doubtless look upon scenes as stirring as any in its century of dramatic history.

Q. Can you tell me how many of our soldier dead have been brought back to this country, and about what is the cost of bringing each body? O. R. A.

A. The War Department says that 21,318 deceased soldiers of the World War have been brought back to this country, including the 5,212 bodies brought on the U. S. S. Wheaton, May 19, 1921. The cost of bringing each one is about $500.

Q. How many cubic inches are there in a gallon of water? C. B. A.

A. The standard gallon in the United States is equivalent to 231 cubic inches of distilled water at its maximum density, and with the barometer at 30 inches.

Q. What is the largest known meteorite? T. R. C.

A. The largest meteorite that has been discovered and measured, of which we can find a record, has been in the Natural History Museum in New York City since 1904. It was discovered by Lieutenant Peary in 1894 near Melville Bay, North Greenland. It weighs 37 1/2 tons.

Q. To settle an argument will you please state what is the correct pronunciation of the word Arkansas? Is the final "s" sounded or silent? J. C. B.

A. The pronunciation of the name Arkansas was studied by the State Historical Society and by the Eclectic Society of Arkansas. By a joint resolution of the general assembly of the state, approved March 15, 1881, it was decided that the correct pronun-

Q. How should I go about changing my name? R. L. Y.

A. We suggest that you petition the court in your locality, through an attorney, for legal recognition of the name you desire to adopt. If you do not care to go into court you may assume any name you please, and ordinary business transactions in the name will be legal. In doing this there is a possibility that trouble might arise in such a matter as inheritance, for instance. It is therefore better to have your change of name a matter of legal record.

Finish Cleaning

The five women who have been cleaning the offices in the courthouse for the last ten days, completed their work Thursday and are now cleaning the county jail. The walls and woodwork are being gone over carefully and after the cleaning is finished it is possible that a new coat of paint will be applied.

Paying for Perversity
"You never came home to sleep while I was in New York! I could tell by the state of your room!" I managed to keep my voice steady while I talked to my husband, but my whole body was trembling.
"You were not here, Jane. What I thought about you I dare not recall—but you ought to realize that the inside of this house was intolerable to me!"
I restrained my impulse to throw myself into Bob's arms. I had still to put the most important of all my questions.
"You stayed at the hotel, I suppose?"
"Of course I did. Katherine was registered there—Suddenly Bob perceived what he had let himself in for. He put his arm around me and held me close as he finished his statement: 'Dear! Dearest! Please try to be fair! Katherine was investigating vice among the highups. She was working with the assistance of hotel detectives! She had to stay at the hotel in order to discover, if possible, when certain respectables left the place. Can't you see, dear?'"
"I see—too much!"
"Nothing happened that you might not have shared?"
"Very plausible! But you must admit Bob, that nothing at all would have happened had I been with you! Certainly you wouldn't have been that night in the same hotel with Katherine!" I couldn't make my tone express my indignation.
"Dearest! Dearest! Be reasonable!"

Some Day Race With Train Will Result In Tie

The driver of a motor truck out a caper at College-ave. railroad crossing Thursday that he couldn't do again if he tried a thousand times, according to witnesses. He came down College-ave. about 35 miles an hour and upon approaching the crossing and seeing a train coming slackened his speed as if about to stop.

Thinking he could make the crossing before the train he turned on the gas and plunged forward. When within a few feet of the track he evidently saw he had misjudged the speed of the train and turned sharply about, his truck nearly reaching the Willy Co. Mill before it settled down on all four wheels. He turned down the avenue again and reached the crossing shortly after the last coach had passed.

Earlier in the week a woman wheeling a baby carriage also had a narrow escape. Upon approaching the crossing from the east she hesitated for a moment on seeing a train coming and then decided she could get across safely ahead of it. The wheels of her carriage got caught between a plank and one of the steel rails and for a moment her predicament was thrilling. She finally got her offspring across in safety, but not without the engine brushing her skirt.

WHAT MADE THE CHANGE?

This Woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a New Woman

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had bearing-down pains so badly I could hardly stand up. I was white and very thin and nervous, had a poor appetite and only weighed 112 pounds. I took ten bottles without missing one dose and gave it a fair trial. When I finished the last bottle everyone asked me what made the wonderful change in me. I told them about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I recommend it wherever I can. I give you permission to publish this letter to help suffering women as your remedies are a godsend and made a new woman of me."—Mrs. F. A. BAKER, 4749 Butler St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Why will women drag around day after day, suffering from backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness and "the blues," enduring a miserable existence when they have such evidence as the above that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable remedy for such troubles. For nearly forty years this grand old root and herb medicine has been restoring the women of America to health.

OPEN NEW ENTRANCE TO POPULAR PLAYGROUND

The lot on the south side of College-ave. several doors east of the big ravine which was included in the purchase of Pierce park and which was formerly occupied by a billboard, is being filled up with earth from the site of the Lutheran Aid society building and will be used as a College-ave. entrance to Jones park. This will make four entrances to this popular playground, the others being located at the foot of Pearl-st. hill, near the courthouse and on Lawrence-st.

Make Second Stock

Bones from roast or steak may be saved and second stock, which can be used in soups, instead of milk, can be made from them. Put the bones, with carrots, onions, parsley and celery in a kettle. Fill container with enough cold water to cover vegetables. Simmer for three hours, then bring to boiling point. Let cool slightly and strain.
Menu For Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Cooked cereal with dates, cinnamon toast, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Cold meat, fried potatoes, spring onions, baking powder biscuits, tea.
DINNER—Beef gobbets, mashed potatoes, cabbage in white sauce, lettuce salad with Russian dressing, lemon pie, coffee.
My Own Recipes
The mutton roll is good sliced cold to serve for luncheon a day or two after using it hot for dinner. Ketchup or chili sauce is always an improvement with cold meat. Cold boiled potatoes sliced or diced and fried in bacon fat until nicely brown are an old-fashioned dish too often ignored.
Beef Gobbets
One and one-half pounds lean beef, 2 tablespoons rice, 1 small carrot, 1-2 small turnip, 1 stalk celery, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons ketchup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, bread crumbs.
Cut meat into small dice and fry quickly in the butter melted in a stew pan. Add carrot, turnip and celery shredded and cook a few minutes longer. Season with salt and pepper. Add enough boiling water to cover and add rice. Simmer for an hour. Add ketchup. Turn into a buttered baking dish, cover with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and brown in a moderate oven.
Cabbage in White Sauce

BORDEN CO. OFFERS TOURIST PARK SITE

Beautiful Camping Place Provided Tourists—Summer School Authorized.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Commencement exercises at the Grand opera house Thursday evening were attended by a very large crowd and the program reflected great credit to those taking part. President-elect Silas Evans of Ripon college delivered an excellent address.

The New London Floral company has recently awarded a contract to the John C. Moninger Construction Co. of Chicago to erect an addition to its greenhouse on the Hortonville road. A new heating plant also will be installed and the old equipment overhauled and some new equipment purchased which will make the establishment thoroughly modern in every respect.

William Stofer has been elected manager of the New London City Band in place of Glen Hopkins who resigned.

A summer school of training for rural teachers will be conducted in the Waupaca County Normal Training School by Principal E. N. Caffey and Miss Beulah D. Kobler, former supervisor of practice in that school. It now holds a similar position in the Langlade County Normal of Antigo. The school will be in session from June 27 until Saturday, July 30 and the prospects are there will be a large attendance.

William Wilke and son Irving will open an electrical repair shop in the Rogier building on South Pearl-st. Both are experienced electricians.

P. H. King, superintendent of the Borden company, has offered the use of the private park belonging to the Borden company as a camp site for auto tourists. This has been a beautiful spot and in addition to a beautiful lawn is planted to trees, shrubbery and flowers. The only condition Mr. King has made is that the city post suitable signs directing tourists to the park. Hot and cold water and toilet facilities in the factory will be available. The park is located on Highway 33 and is a few feet away from Highway 18 and will be very convenient and accessible.

18 ASSEMBLYMEN FROM MILWAUKEE

Reach Agreement on Reapportionment of State Legislative Districts.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The special joint committee on reapportionment has reached an agreement on the legislative reapportionment. The committee offered a substitute amendment to the bill No. 477 S in the senate this morning, supported by the entire committee. It will be on the calendar for next Tuesday and is expected to be engrossed and passed under supervision of the rules and immediately sent to the assembly.

The only change made in the original bill outside of Milwaukee county was the switching of Marquette and Waushara counties. This was done to prevent Senator John A. Conant from being legislated out of office and was only done when a petition signed by the assemblymen and senators affected was presented to the committee. It leaves Marquette and Adams in one assembly district as at present, and combined Waushara and Green Lake counties. This will place Waushara county in the eighteenth senatorial district with Green Lake and Fond du Lac counties, and Marquette and Adams in the thirty-first district with Monroe and Juneau counties.

The amendment leaves thirteen of the assembly districts in Milwaukee county as proposed by Senator Arnold and embodied in the original bill, and making seven changes to better conform to the constitutional provisions for compactness of territory and population as in senatorial districts. It leaves the territory in the county outside of the city of Milwaukee with three assembly districts while another had but one ward, the eighteenth.

$1 PRESCRIPTION BILL IS KILLED IN SENATE

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—The prospect of cheaper liquor prescriptions went glimmering Thursday night when the senate killed the Meisinger bill limiting the price physicians could charge to one dollar. The senate considered the law unconstitutional and the vote stood 10 to 9 for indefinite postponement.

Senator Eldo Ridgway, the only physician in the senate, said so far as he was concerned a law compelling physicians to give liquor prescriptions would be satisfactory.

VETERAN CLERK OF U. S. SUPREME COURT IS DEAD

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—James D. Maher, clerk of the United States Supreme court, died here early Friday.

Maher went to the hospital for what was believed to be a minor operation shortly after the death of Chief Justice White to whom Maher was greatly attached. He failed to rally after the operation and had been sinking for some days.

Maher had been an employee of the supreme court for fifty-five years, starting there as a page.

CLERKS LOSE BALL GAME TO SHOPMEN

Railroad Workers Carry Rabbits Foot and Grab Off Hard Hit Balls.

Kaukauna—The clerks baseball team went down before the shop men Thursday afternoon on city ball grounds by a score of 7 to 11. The game was one of the Twilight League baseball series which is taking well with the young men of the city.

William Johnson makes a better baseball treasurer than a pitcher. He took the mound for the clerks but was knocked out of the box in two innings. The reliable Foegen took his place and showed up the real weakness of the shopmen.

After the change of pitchers the clerks still had a good chance of turning the tide, but all hopes were dashed when they tried slugging the ball. Whether the ball went two feet out of the diamond, or hit the back fence, it seemed that some fielder was always camped under it to meet it on its way down. Gehr, shops left fielder, came in for his share of abuse when he copped several flies right under the shadow of the fence.

"Cub" Buck was second man behind the bat.

BADGER ADMITS TAKING 3 BRIDES

Wausau Man Arrested in Iowa for Abandoning First Wife and Their Children.

Wausau—A Wausau undersheriff was detailed to Davenport, Ia., Thursday afternoon to bring back Ray Merle, alleged "loves pirate," who is wanted here for neglecting to provide for his wife and four children.

According to admissions, which the Davenport police claim was made to them, Merle married twice since he fled from this city and now has three wives.

The man is being detained at Davenport awaiting the arrival of Wausau officials.

Word received here late Thursday afternoon was to the effect that Merle made a clean breast to the authorities.

"I met a woman in Minneapolis and on the same night married her," he is alleged to have told the police. "I was drunk and when I discovered what I had done the next morning, I ditched the girl taking another pal, Minnie Foster, to Davenport."

Merle claimed he was married to the Foster woman, also, when arrested.

He is 35 years old and an automobile man.

Miss Esther Schwartz is spending the weekend at her home at Manitowish.

APPLETON PLAYS OSHKOSH IN BIG BATTLE OF SUNDAY

League Leaders Meet in Sawdust City—Kimberly Invades New London.

SUNDAY SCHEDULE
Appleton at Oshkosh.
Menasha at Kaukauna.
Kimberly at New London.

Brand's baseballers will make their second invasion of foreign territory this season when they march into Oshkosh Sunday afternoon for their first game with the Overall gang. Dozens of fans here who are elated over the showing of the team will trail along with the athletes to give them as much support as possible from the grandstand and bleachers.

Sunday is "knothole day" for the Oshkosh club. Tickets have been given to about every kid under 14 years old in the Sawdust city and it has been estimated that at least 2,000 youngsters will be on hand. The attendance of grownups also is expected to establish a new record because of the keen interest in baseball this year and also because the two teams are considered the class of the league.

Oshkosh folks have heard a good deal about Hank Schultz who is scheduled to bend 'em over for the Brandts and they want to see him in action. Stevenson, the class of the league last year, will leave for the Overall. Manager Stecke has secured a chap named Rank from Holland, Mich., to take Steve's place in case the Brandts get to his curves. So he is well fixed for the season. During the last few weeks he has secured the services of Peters, a first baseman, and Witteman, an outfielder, who are expected to add considerable to the strength of the club.

Menasha will tackle the Kaukauna crew in its own lair and a regular battle is expected. Kaukauna has had difficulty in getting started but figures a break is coming soon. Snaky Schmidt will leave for the Electric City gang.

One of the best fights of the day is scheduled for New London where Kimberly will make its first appearance. Marty Lamers apparently is making a comeback this year and probably will be started against the Edisons. Manager Sylvester has also secured a pitcher named Dale from Green Bay to help out Marty in case of trouble. Harvey Stock, former Lake Shore league star, who has been signed by the club, still is in the east but is expected to take up the burden in the near future.

Loran probably will work for New London. He is a regular pitcher when going good and will give Kimberly plenty of trouble. New London has signed up Eddie Karst, noted basketball player, to play shortstop. Karst is one of the fastest men in the league and is going good for the Edisons.

Insider Says

Earl Neale is a good ball player—conscious or unconscious. The other day he bumped into a wall chasing a fly, knocked himself cold but held the ball.

There's a difference between swinging at the ball and on the ball.

Rogers Hornsby gets more mileage out of the ball than Babe Ruth. He hits it oftener.

Long George Kelly is about ready to admit that Ruth still has something on him as a homerun manufacturer.

Golf is played in 50 countries of the world. There are approximately 1,577,400 players who belong to golf clubs.

Baseball teams and fishermen both have their castoffs.

Kato Tanaka, the Babe Ruth of the Japanese baseball team now touring this country, hasn't lost any baseballs yet.

Mexico City will hold a 100-day race meet this winter. Some say Mexico is a better place for some drinks than Cuba.

Why should a pitcher throw good balls up to a batter when he goes after bad ones? Answer: There isn't any reason.

If Dempsey doesn't get over Carpenter the foreigners may make a clean sweep of our titles. They're headed for the "silo."

The bird who fouls 'em down the first and third base lines has no love lost for the man who makes the whitewash lines.

With the baseball season well on its way, think of the grandmothers who have "died."

The tuning up of a racing auto has nothing to do with musical circles.

They call Tris Speaker Spoke, but he is really the hub of the Cleveland Indians.

WAUSAU WANTS GAMES WITH APPLETON CLUBS

Wausau, which has one of the best amateur baseball teams in the state, is looking for games with Appleton teams but the challenge specifically states that it wants to open negotiations with the fastest team in the city. Local clubs which feel they fit under that head can make connections by writing the Wausau Baseball association.

TEX RICKARD IS TAKING CHANCE ON CARP-DEMP FIGHT

Famous Sportsman Will Have Million Dollars Tied Up in Big Battle.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
Whoop! Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are training under a heavy mental strain don't forget that Tex Rickard is carrying a big load, too.

Rickard is holding the bag—the money bag. Whether anybody comes to Rickard's extravaganza July 2 or not he is going to be out close to one million dollars.

For the Dempsey-Carpentier match is the most expensive ring show of prize fight history. Rickard called it a Million Dollar fight in the beginning and he's making it just that.

Dempsey and Carpentier are going to split a half million dollars between them it is generally assumed. There's the first half of the Million Dollar bank roll shot.

Add to this the amusement tax of $100,000 to be collected by Uncle Sam plus another $100,000 for the state tax.

The arena will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. Publicity for the fight will set Rickard back from $25,000 to $50,000 more. Fight insurance adds up the count.

Then there are the preliminaries to the main go. They'll cost another $25,000.

Also it's customary to peel a few more bank notes off the dwindling roll for the referee. And Rickard wouldn't think of handing a referee for his Million Dollar Show anything less than two or three thousand.

Total these items up and you have close to a million spent. So far the advance sales are heavy. All the $50 pasteborders are gone. Rickard says he's tried to keep 'em out of the hands of scalpers. But no matter how hard he tries, scalping crowds always do a certain amount of business.

While the high-priced seats are taken it is the cheaper ones that are the sticklers. They won't be taken—until the day of the fight. And it's the cheaper seats that Rickard is really gambling on to make his little profit.

If his arena is packed to the gun-wales on July 2 he'll pull out with a little silk.

But if his arena is sparsely populated when the curtain goes up Rickard is going to be out.

He's spending close to a million in hopes of getting it back. That's about all.

Whichever way the money tide flows Rickard will never whimper. For he is a sportsman to the core.

Homerunning! Everybody's Doing It

Babe Ruth (center) and his chief rivals: left, Bobb Meusel (top) and Emil Meusel (bottom); right, Russell Wrightstone (top) and Fred Williams (bottom).

Home run hashers are giving major league fans a full dinner pail. So many homers are being whacked over the barriers that the glory of it is losing its kick.

It's the fad of all players to try to emulate Babe Ruth. And most every Tom, Dick and Harry is succeeding on an abbreviated scale.

Up to June 1 major league batsmen had socked out 241 homers.

Of the two scoundrels the National League "Babe Ruths" lead the slugging orgy with the total of 125 while the American League "Bambinos," with the Babe himself at the steering wheel, had collected 116.

And the home run angel is no respecter of teams. He hovers over every grass plot enclosed within four walls.

This is evidenced by the fact that the lowly Phillies, who stick around close to cellar climate like adhesive tape, were tied with Babe Ruth & Co., with 23 home runs.

When the record books for May closed Irish Meusel had 9, Russell Wrightstone 6, Fred Williams 5, Eugeny S. Lee Meadows and Ralph Miller 3 each and Lehouvenau 1. That's the Phillies home run speed.

The Yankees' 28 circuits were registered as follows: Babe Ruth 16, Bob Meusel 5, Wally Pipp, Walter Schang and Bobby Roth 2 each and Aaron Ward and Roger Peckinpaugh 1 each. Home run statistics on the other 14 clubs up to June 1 are: National League: New York 23, Brooklyn 19, St. Louis 17, Boston 12, Chicago 10, Pittsburgh 9 and Cincinnati 7. American League: St. Louis 20, Philadelphia 19, Cleveland 15, Detroit 14, Washington 8, Chicago 6 and Boston 5.

The answer to the heavy slugging is due partly to a livelier ball since a better grade of yarn is used in making baseballs now than formerly. There are other causes. Ban on freak pitching aids batters. Keeping now balls constantly in play helps batting eyes. The taboo on the use of resin detracts from pitchers' control.

But the one big cause is BABE RUTH—his psychological example of HOMERUNNING.

GEORGES IS MARK FOR JACK'S LEFT

French Challenger Fails to Make Impression in Workout on Friday.

By Jack McAniff
By United Press Leased Wire
Maulhasset, L. I. — If Carpenter isn't "hippodroming" in his public work, he's a mark for a left hand.

This big Journey, who is doing most of the work with the Frenchman, is far from a first class man. He was knocked out by Bob Martin in the inter-allied tournaments in one of the first bouts Martin had. He was knocked out by Nils, the French heavyweight, a few nights before he came over with Carpenter.

Yet, this Journey seems to have no trouble in getting a left to Carpenter's face and body and his left moves like a truck. It's so slow.

I am inclined to think, however, that Carpenter might be letting those blows get to him for a purpose. His work Friday was far from impressive, far less than what they say he can do. The Frenchman has been using his left a little more. He puts it over with a leaping motion of the body but every time he misses he's off his balance and wide open when he comes to the floor. His right swing is the same way.

The atmosphere around the camp is changing greatly. There seems to be less of the air of seriousness that made the farmhouses look like a tomb for the first week or so.

They have moved at night now to help the challenger pass away his spare moments and he seems in much better spirits. He is improving right along. He has lost all of the nervousness that was so marked in his actions and attitude when he first came over. The crowds do not seem to get on his nerves like they did.

Chalk up another homer for Babe Ruth. He made his sixteenth circuit clout against St. Louis and now has a big lead over Kelly of New York and Fritz Meusel of Philadelphia. For a time it looked as if the Yankee outfielder was going to be uncrowned King of Swat, by the Giant first sacker but Kelly has fallen by the wayside while Ruth continues to pop out one or two circuit wallopers a week.

This week practically winds up the collegiate athletic season and it won't be long now before thoughts are turned to football. Unless we miss our guess the 1921 pigskin year has all the advance indications of a record breaker. Pre-season dope shows that all of the Western Conference squads will have a number of veterans back in the fold and that the race for the Big Ten gridiron title will be closely contested. Watching The Scoreboard

Friday's hero—The Athletics. They knocked seven homers, equaling the major league record, and beat Detroit, 15 to 9.

Welsh and Dykes hit two each and Dugan, Perkins and C. Walker got the others.

Babe Ruth got a single, a triple and his sixteenth homer but the Yankees lost to the Browns, 9 to 8.

The Giants scored three runs in the ninth inning and beat the Pirate, 4 to 1.

Mulligan batted in five runs with a triple and a homer and the White Sox beat the Senators, 8 to 3.

Smith relieved Hubbell in the ninth inning with two on and none out and retired the side, the Phils beating the Cards, 6 to 5.

Jeff Pfeiffer was knocked out of the box by the Cubs and Brooklyn lost, 8 to 2.

The Braves beat the Reds 4 to 0.

Vick's pinch single in the ninth inning with the bases full gave the Red Sox a 7 to 6 win over Cleveland.

Sport Views And News

The series between Pittsburgh and the New York Giants now under way in the home of the Pirates will cut quite a figure in the National league pennant race. The Buccaners got off to a flying start but they have been getting bumped occasionally of late and the Gothamites are not so far behind. McGraw's team is traveling at a fast clip these days and it wouldn't be surprising if they climbed to the top of the ladder before their western trip was over. One thing about the Giants, they are a good traveling aggregation and play nearly as well abroad as when in action on Broadway.

Harry Ertle, Jersey City, will be the referee. The commission has decided on him and has let it be known that no outside influence can bring them to any other choice.

"The commission is in absolute charge of this contest. We reserve the right to name the man of our choice regardless of the opinion of the two managers and we are going to do it," one of the commissioners said Saturday.

Commissioners Dougherty and Lyons conferred with Francois D scamps late Friday and found that the manager of Carpenter isn't vitally concerned over the referee question.

"The commissioners talked with me," Descamps said Saturday. "I told them that either Bob Edgren, who is the choice of the champion's manager, or Ertle was satisfactory to me."

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, wants Edgren.

New York.—The New Jersey boxing commission will grant a license to Tex Rickard and name the referee for the big fight next week.

Rickard's application for a license is now on file with the commission and will get the ok at the next meeting.

MIDWEST ATHLETES IN ANNUAL CONTEST

Six Hundred Track and Field Stars Compete on Staggy Field in Chicago.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Six hundred crack athletes, representing the "big ten" universities and other institutions, battled for honors in the twenty-first annual track and field games of the western conference on Staggy field Saturday. Due to the large number of entries, trials in the dash events were run Friday to weed out the dead wood.

In addition to the western conference schools, Missouri, Ames, Nebraska, Ohio Wesleyan, Western State Normal, Michigan Aggie, Notre Dame, Butler, Cincinnati and Grinnell sent their best track men.

Illinois, with a well balanced team, was picked to annex the classic. However, Michigan, Notre Dame and Wisconsin were considered strong contenders.

Several records were expected to fall.

Five sprinters—Hayes, of Notre Dame; Simmons, of Michigan; Moore, head of Ohio State; Captain Prescott of Illinois, and C. Altenburg of Western State Normal of Michigan—who have covered the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat, faced the starter. Wilson of Iowa, who set a "Big ten" record for the century event by going the distance in 9 4/5 seconds, also competed in it.

Six men qualified in each event and five places counted. There were fifteen events.

The cinder track was in excellent condition and as fast as lightning.
